

Col d'Orcia Brunello di Montalcino

2018

Black prunes, wild blueberries and raspberries are the dark scents in this young Brunello. In the background wisteria, English lavender and violets but also spices such as black pepper corns and cardamom. Medium to full bodied on the palate, biting tannins and a strong finale of intense length. A great classic, projected to age in the best possible manner, solid and concentrated with great precision. Better from 2024.
