

The 1990 Brunello Di Montalcino Riserva Poggio Al Vento is generous with sunbaked black cherry, plum, leather, and purple flowers. It is full-bodied, with harmonizing umami richness and notes of truffle, balsamic, and baked red plum. It is in a good place for drinking now, but it may be a little past its peak.